Dear Sir or Madam,

Reading the announcement of the summer camp that you have posted on the Internet, I am interested in it. (分词短语作状语) I know that you welcome students from different countries and I'd like to take part in it. (并列句) Not only have I been learning English for 10 years but also I speak fluent English. (倒装句) What is more, I'll be able to tell students from other countries about China as well as learn about their countries. (as well as 连接两个并列谓语) I hope I will be accepted as a member of your summer camp and I am looking forward to your reply! (并列句)

Regards,

Li Hua

Good afternoon, everyone.

Welcome to our school! High school students are faced with a choice between arts and science. It was not an easy choice for me to make. After careful consideration, though, I decided on science as my main subject of study.

There are several reasons accounting for my choice of science. First, science graduates are in greater demand than art ones in China. Second, the science major can help me achieve my childhood dream of becoming a scientist. Third, my parents wish me to study science at college because they believe I will have a brighter future as a science student. Last but not the least, my physics teacher is my role model, whose influence on me had a lot to do with my decision. It is for these reasons that I finally made my choice.

In the English Reading Week, one of my classmates recommended a quote to us which goes like this: "Your future depends on many things, but mostly on you." I can't agree more with this view. It's true that our future is determined by many things, such as opportunities and help from others, but our own attitude, determination,
